VEGETINE.

An Excellent Medicine.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb., 8, 1877.

This is to certify that I have used VEGETINE, manufactured by H. R. Stevens, Boston, Mass., for Rheumatism and General Prostration of the Nervous System, with good success. I recommend VEGETINE as an excellent medicine for such complaints.

Yours very truly,
O. W. VANDEGRIFF.

Mr. Vandegrift, of the firm of Vandegrift & Huffman, is a well-known business man in this place, having one of the largest stores in Springfield, O.

Our Minister's Wife.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Feb. 16, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir.—Three years ago I was suffering terribly with Inflammatory Rheumatism. Our minister's wife advised me to take VEGETINE. After taking one bottle, I was entirely relieved. This year, feeling a return of the disease, I again commenced taking it, and am being benefited greatly. It also greatly improved my digestion. Respectfully,
MRS. A. BALLARD.
1011 West Jefferson Street.

Safe and Sure.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

In 1872 your Vegetine was recommended to me, and yielding to the persuasions of a friend, I consented to try it. At the time, I was suffering from general debility and nervous prostration, superinduced by overwork and irregular habits. Its wonderful strengthening and curative properties seemed to affect my debilitated system from the first dose, and under its persistent use I rapidly recovered, gaining more than usual health and good feeling, since then I have not hesitated to give Vegetine my most unqualified indorsement as being a safe, sure and powerful agent in promoting health and restoring the wasted system to new life and energy. Vegetine is the only medicine I use, and as long as I live, I never expect to find a better.

Yours truly,
W. H. CLARKE,
120 Monterey Street, Allegheny, Pa.

VEGETINE.

The following letter from Rev. G. W. Mansfield, formerly pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Hyde Park, and at present settled in Lowell, must convince every one who reads his letter of the wonderful curative qualities of VEGETINE as a thorough cleanser and purifier of the blood.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Feb. 15, 1876.

MR. H. H. STEVENS,

DEAR SIR,—About ten years ago my health failed through the depleting effects of dyspepsia; nearly a year later I was attacked by typhoid fever in its worst form. It settled in my back, and took the form of a large deep-seated abscess, which was fifteen months in gathering. I had two surgical operations by the best skill in the State, but received no permanent cure. I suffered great pain at times, and was constantly weakened by a profuse discharge. I also lost small pieces of bone at different times.

Matters ran on thus about seven years, till May, 1874, when a friend recommended me to go to your office and talk with you of the virtue of VEGETINE. I did so, and by your kindness passed through your manufactory, noting the ingredients, &c., by which your remedy is produced.

By what I saw and heard I gained some confidence in VEGETINE.

I commenced taking it soon after, but felt worse from its effects; still I persevered, and soon felt it was benefiting me in other respects. Yet I did not see the results I desired till I had taken it faithfully for a little more than a year, when the difficulty in the back was cured; and for nine months I have enjoyed the best of health.

I have in that time gained twenty-five pounds of flesh, being heavier than ever before in my life, and I was never more able to perform labor than now.

During the past few weeks I had a scrofulous swelling as large as my fist gather on another part of my body.

I took VEGETINE faithfully, and it removed it level with the surface in a month. I think I should have been cured of my main trouble sooner if I had taken larger doses, after having become accustomed to its effects.

Let your patrons troubled with scrofula or kidney disease understand that it takes time to cure chronic diseases; and, if they will patiently take VEGETINE, it will, in my judgment, cure them.

With great obligations I am
Yours very truly,
G. W. MANSFIELD,
Pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

LOUISIANA AFFAIRS.

Major Burke's Story

SCHEMES OF THE POLITICIANS AT THE LAST ELECTION.

AND HOW THEY CAME TO NOUGHT

A Story That May or May Not be True.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.

Major Burke, in an interview, yesterday, at New Orleans, defended President Hayes and the southern democratic congressmen from charges of party infidelity. He says nothing transpired in connection with the counting of the electoral vote which could in any way improperly compromise President Hayes or southern democratic congressmen. In answer to the charge that northern democrats and southern congressmen did not act in good faith with their party, he said the people of Louisiana had expressed no favor for the electoral bill. They regarded it as a means of

LETTING TILDEN DOWN EASY.

They had been led to expect that Tilden and the democratic party north would claim their rights, and, if need be, enforce them.

"Pelton and the Tilden managers besought the Louisiana congressmen and myself to urge Nicholls, the legislature and our people to

WORK UP A PUBLIC SENTIMENT

in favor of the electoral bill, under a belief that Tilden's rights were secured by it, and we did so at their solicitations and upon their own representations. Therefore, Tilden's declaration, on the eve of his departure for Europe, that he had always disapproved the electoral bill, came

WITH A BAD GRACE.

At the caucus of Feb. 17, we simply desired to know if the party had any comprehensive plan or policy looking to

TILDEN'S INAUGURATION;

if not, and they should determine to acquiesce in the decision of the commission, then we insisted that the party should commit republicans to the withdrawal of troops in Louisiana and South Carolina before yielding, instead of making conditions or any effort to save Louisiana and South Carolina. The caucus agreed to acquiesce in the decision of the electoral commission, and practically abandoned Louisiana and South Carolina."

Regarding the counting of the vote he said, "The Tilden managers in Washington had schemes for in the Senate and for holding a new election under Conkling; but the party had never authorized them. I know positively that had a speech all prepared in favor of throwing out the vote of Louisiana, in which event he was to have been elected president of the Senate, and would have become President of the United States pending the new election, which would have taken place a year afterward."

SENATOR CONKLING

"Tilden's friends were

SATISFIED WITH THIS ARRANGEMENT,

because they thought that with his wounds fresh bleeding he would have no trouble in securing the democratic nomination: and Senator Conkling doubtless thought that with the control of patronage he would

EASILY SECURE HAYES

and become the republican candidate.

"The cause which prevented an attempt at carrying this programme out was felt by Conkling's adherents on the Republican side of the carpet-bag senators from Southern estates. They were all ready enough to

THE DISTRUST

SLAUGHTER HAYES,

because they had become alarmed at some of his utterances and at Grant's declarations, but it was feared that instead of supporting Conkling they

MIGHT VOTE FOR MORTON,

as they probably would have done."

Burke further said that he never had an agreement signed by Stanly Matthews, Charles Foster or anybody else and leading Northerners. Matthews and Foster were unjustly assailed.

TROUBLES OF THE RETURNING BOARD.

FLIGHT OF GOV. WELLS.

President Hayes Refuses to Interfere.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.

A special from New Orleans last night says the excitement in the returning board cases has somewhat abated.

At an interview with Anderson, Kenner and Casanave in the parish prison, Anderson stated that the reason they hid in the custom house was to gain time; that on the present jury in the superior criminal court there is not a single colored man. The jury was drawn to convict them, and their only object was to gain time. He intimated pretty bitterly that the effect of their treatment by the administration might lead to something unexpected, though he refused to say what. In conversation with prison officials, however, the trio have expressed themselves to the effect that if they are deserted by those they placed in power, they will make disclosures exceedingly unpleasant.

The two colored men are very downhearted. They say there is no hope for them with a packed jury and every one arrayed against them. Anderson, though dispirited at times, grows fierce and bitter. Search is made everywhere for Wells, but without effect. It is believed he started on Saturday for Washington, and that the custom-house resistance was for the purpose of giving him time to reach Washington; that when there, he will go to the president and urge their desperate condition, and show him that unless he does something they will be lost. If he refuses, then a disclosure will be made of fraud on condition that the prosecution be stopped.

It is a matter in which, as now presented, the United States government cannot interfere, as the difficulty is purely a local matter. His action in the premises, as indicated by his reply to the telegram received by him about the situation, was taken promptly, he says, without any consultation with the president, and it is doubtful if the president knew anything about it. Attorney General Devens is decided about the propriety of recognizing the authority of the state courts in matters of proper jurisdiction and the process of law in cases coming under them. The attorney general does not look for any further trouble from the arrests just made in New Orleans.

Another New Orleans special states that Anderson showed a list of the jury called, comprising over forty names, not one of which is a republican or a colored citizen. He also stated that he was entirely ignorant of the Vernon Parish matter. He is determined, if possible, not to be tried before a packed jury. His counsel will make an effort to avert such trial, and will ask for change of venue. Anderson said that Wells had left the city, but would, he believed, appear before the Superior Criminal Court on Monday.

FROM WASHINGTON.

PROSPECTS OF THE SILVER BILL.

ITS PASSAGE APPARENTLY INEVITABLE.

[Special to the Boston Transcript.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

Debate on the silver bill will be resumed in the senate today. The anti-silver men are much alarmed and admit today that the prospects of a two thirds vote on a measure approximating the provisions of the Bland bill is inevitable. Both the president and Secretary Sherman have abandoned all hopes of defeat of the measure.

[Special to Prov. Journal.]

THE VOTE ON THE SILVER QUESTION IN THE HOUSE.

The silver men take great courage today from the vote of 189 to 79 in the house on the Matthews resolution, and declare it indicates the certain passage of the Bland bill over a veto. The anti-silver men, however, do not concede this, and, in fact, in a meeting of the soft money league, after the adjournment of the house, there were grave doubts expressed in regard to the situation in the senate. The vote in the house was divided about as on the Bland bill. There were only two votes for it from New England, Butler of Massachusetts, and Phelps of Connecticut. There were only three votes for in New York, one in New Jersey. There were no votes against it in Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Kansas, Arkansas or West Virginia.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION.

SENATE.

MONDAY, Jan. 28.

No quorum present.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The speaker announced the following as members of committees to fill vacancies.

On the building act of the city of Providence, Harvey E. Wellman.

On printing—E. R. Holden, of Providence.

On education—William Gilpin, of Newport.

Mr. Tobey, of Providence, by general consent, introduced a bill entitled, "An act to establish specie payments on all contracts or obligations payable in this state in dollars, and made after January first, 1879," which is as follows:

SECTION 1. All taxes levied and confirmed in this state on and after January 1st, 1879, shall be collected in gold, United States gold certificates, or national bank notes which are redeemable in gold on demand.

SEC. 2. Every contract or obligation made or implied and payable within this state, or or implied after January 1st, 1879, and payable in dollars, but not in a specified kind of dollars, shall be payable in United States gold coin of the standard, weight and fineness established by the laws of the United States at the time the contract or obligation shall have been made or implied.

Mr. Tobey, in presenting the bill, said it seemed to him that the time has come for the honest people of this country, who believe in the sacredness of contracts and the paying of honest debts, to consider if something cannot now be done to stop this mania which is now prevalent in another section of this country. When I see what is going on in Congress, and see how these votes in Congress are supported in the South and West, I am pressed with anxiety equal to that which hung over us during the dark days of the civil war.

Mr. Sheffield, of Newport, thought the bill should go to the judiciary committee (to which Mr. Tobey assented) as there was a constitutional question involved. Should the bill pass it would be setting up a higher standard in this state than in the states around us, which might operate to our disadvantage.

Mr. Farnsworth, of Pawtucket, said we had got into this difficulty by bad management, and were kept in it by lack of sufficient pluck to get out. He also hoped the bill would go to the committee on the judiciary, to see if it is expedient to legislate in this matter at this time, and if it is expedient to do so without some understanding with the states around us.

The bill was then referred to the committee on the judiciary, and ordered printed.

LATEST FROM WASHINGTON.

SENATOR CONKLING HEARD FROM.

Major Burke Contradicted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.

Senator Conkling, a few days since, in conversation upon the same charges as those now made from New Orleans by Major Burke, that he had a speech ready last winter opposing the counting of the vote of Louisiana for Hayes, authorized the statement that such a charge was absolutely false.

THE FREEDMAN'S HOSPITAL.

General Schurz has adopted a novel method of ascertaining the condition of the Freedmen's Hospital, which he has had a commission at work on for some time, without very satisfactory results. He drove out there himself, unexpected, and taking an officer along to administer oaths, and finding the chief officer absent, he went through the establishment and swore various employes and subordinate officers, and obtained a very clear insight into the arrangement of this institution. This practical examination overthrow much of the defence which the officers have been trying hard to make.

THE CONGRESSIONAL INFLATION LEAGUE.

The house greenback, silver and inflation league, held a secret caucus in the judiciary committee room after the adjournment today. One hundred and seventeen members were reported. Both parties were strongly represented. There was considerable discussion over the means of raising funds and the necessity of circulating documents, especially in New England. Ben. Butler made several speeches, subscribed fifty dollars and called attention to the fact that they could, with their strength in the house, compel the printing of anything in the Record, and that this could go free, and in that way they could make the government do their printing and carry their matter free. Mr. Buckner said he had had strong appeals from Massachusetts for documents. His correspondents said there was great ignorance up there on the silver question, and the documents would rally a strong party. The names of several senators who were thought to be either very uncertain to support the Bland bill, or else opposed to it, were given, and it was suggested that steps be taken to have their state legislatures instruct them for the Bland bill. It was agreed to make a strong effort to extend the league and to raise funds.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE EASTERN RAILROAD.

A Young Woman Instantly Killed.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 28.

A young lady, named Maggie McArthur, living at Revere, left that town at half-past seven o'clock this morning in the first train from Boston to go to Lynn to work as a dressmaker in a private family. She got off at the West Lynn Station by mistake and started to walk up the railroad track to the Central Station. She stepped from the inward track to avoid an approaching train, when she was struck by the Portland express from Boston and instantly killed. Deceased was 20 years old and has a sister living at Revere. An inquest will be held by Judge Newhall.

Secretary Sherman begins his recent appeal to the American public to buy the Government "four per cent" in this way:

"TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
"WASHINGTON, D. C., January 18.)

"The Secretary of the Treasury hereby gives notice that from the 26th instant, and until further notice, he will receive subscriptions for the four per cent. funded loan of the United States, in denominations as stated below, at par and accrued interest, if coin."

What description of "coin?" We have gold coins and silver coins. We have major coins and minor coins. Secretary Sherman has recently written a letter to a Western journalist to say that so many of the old silver dollars as may still be in existence are an unlimited legal tender, and so we suppose these are to be received if presented. How is this?—[The World.

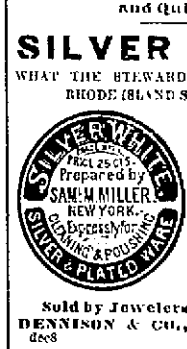

A friend of Courbet, the Swiss painter who has lately died, says that his home was a cottage in such a tumble-down condition that it was hardly considered safe. Here he lived entirely alone, and his housekeeping was primitive enough. When his bed was made, he made it himself just before getting into it. His bed-room was festooned with colwebs, and one day his friend attempted to take some down with his umbrella, when Courbet, greatly excited, seized his arm, exclaiming; "Mon cher ami, what are you doing? They catch the flies!" Another friend says of him: "The last time I saw him he was in a great state of excitement, attempting to sweep and scour down with his own hands his floor and deal tables and benches, as the queen of Sweden had asked to be allowed to visit his studio. His attempt did not seem to be likely to succeed, but his intentions were good. He was a very big man with a peculiarly gentle expression of countenance. His dress was careless in the extreme. It seems to me that the two words which best describe him are naivete and bonhommie. I was told by an old friend of his that he has never got over the sorrow caused him by the death of his wife and only son at the age of about twenty. He made many studies about the cantons of Vallais and Vaud. He used to bring home his big wet canvases on his back, looking like a halo sandwich-man. He painted very rapidly, never using a brush, but laying on his colors thickly with a palette knife. When he told me this, I suppose I looked surprised, for he very kindly volunteered to show me how he did it. It was wonderful to see what delicate effects a few touches he made in this way produced."

It is said that the eastern counties of Cal., have been almost completely stripped of deer in recent years. The destruction has made very rapid progress of late, since a glove factory at San Francisco has hired men to shoot deer solely for the sake of the skins, the carcasses being left behind. The matter has been brought to the attention of the committee on game laws in the California senate.

WE STILL LIVE
And will be glad to receive orders for
HOUSE PAINTING in all its Branches.
Which we do in the best manner, as I warrant the same to be as represented.
We also do
Carriage Painting
At the shop on Weaver avenue, rear of Ocean House, where we shall be glad to see our many former patrons, and as many new ones as will give us their patronage. But I respectfully decline to do up carriages for parties, who have not paid for having them done up in years past.
I have a great many carriages on hand of most all kinds, which I want to sell cheap; some extra nice phaeton top buggies, which are new, and warranted in every respect, also some nice sleighs and more to arrive, which I want to sell. One two seated hood with plush, also pole and shafts.
Now one word to my friends who owe me, will you try to come up with the cash? If not with that just please come up and sign a note, which if good will help along, as sometimes notes are used to advantage, and none are too poor to sign a note. By that operation we shall be able to settle up accounts, and that will be one step in the right direction. To the many friends who have honored me with their favors I return them my thanks, and still ask a continuance of their favor.

MORE ABOUT BILLS.

THANKS ARE DUE to many of those who received bills from me in the early part of the month, for the prompt manner in which they paid them; some who paid so promptly did not do so from the abundance of their means but rather that being possessed of the nature and knowing that in buying they had accepted the terms on which the articles bought were sold, they but carefully regulated their expenditures so as to meet their obligations when due. All honor to them and their kind; may their numbers increase! There still remains a long list of unpaid bills, the holders of which can do me a great favor by paying. The money received is not wanted to stow away in barrels or banks, but is wanted to pay debts that were contracted on the supposition that those owing me were to pay at this especial time. Who will help to do it? I feel no one feel that what they owe is too small to be of consequence for all help, and all are gladly received.

EVERY NEWPORTER ABROAD SHOULD HAVE THE NEWPORT JOURNAL.
my17

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 13 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellany, and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $6 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal. Terms $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 60 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The publisher of the Newport Mercury has taken occasion, publicly and privately, to misrepresent the circulation of our papers as well as his own. In justice to ourselves and our advertisers, we have publicly denied the truthfulness of his statements and made a proposition to submit the proofs to a disinterested and impartial tribunal, which he declines, though persisting in his false statements. He probably refuses to exhibit his books in comparison with our own for the following reasons:

1.—They will show that he has not one half the circulation which he persistently and publicly claims.
2.—That we have more than three times the circulation that he ascribes to us, both in the city and county of Newport.
3.—That his circulation is less now than formerly and has been subject to a steady decline.
4.—That ours has regularly increased and is now larger than ever before.

Newport Daily News.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1878.

THE DAY.

An exchange says the origin of the "Old Stone Mill" at Newport is about settled. It seems generally agreed that it was a one-'Norse architect who built it.

A building on Worth street New York, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. It was occupied by a number of dry goods men. The damage is estimated at $125,000.

The Mathews silver resolution has passed the House by more than a two thirds vote. Whether we desire it or not, we may as well make up our minds to the fact that silver is to be remonetized and it is more than probable that even the Bland bill will become a law.

The peace negotiations between Russia and Turkey are not yet formally concluded though there is but little doubt that the war is at an end. England is still in trouble, it being more and more apparent that the eastern nations are disposed to settle their affairs without much reference to her wishes.

Another attempt at buncomb was made in the General Assembly yesterday. The success of the gentleman from Warwick in getting himself before the public as "an honest man" has led a Providence lawyer, Mr. Tobey, to take up the cry for genuine dollars. A somewhat similar movement was initiated in the Massachusetts legislature, but its evident absurdity led to its speedy defeat, and we trust the good sense of Rhode Island will also make itself apparent.

The report that made Postmaster Coggeshall, of this city, say that one seventh of the indebtedness of the Vermont division of the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad is held in this city, is an error. Mr. Coggeshall disclaims having made such a statement, and as a matter of fact it is not correct. Quite large sums are held by banks and private individuals, and the holders will meet with loss, though it is impossible, at present, to tell to what extent.

Senator Anthony yesterday presented a memorial from the harbor commissioners of Providence, asking Congress to make an appropriation for the improvement of the harbor. He spoke of the advantage of the harbor, and said that the people of Providence could claim the assistance of the Federal Government upon the principal of the government helping those who helped themselves, as they had already expended $100,000 to improve the harbor, and now needed only a small appropriation by Congress to make it navigable for large vessels.

The Fall River News of Saturday says that the telephone has really become a useful article. It has been the means of saving a life already, in the case where a boy was nearly drowned at Middletown. The beauty of the thing is its convenience, as it admits of one speaking directly with another in tones to be understood. It will become universal by and by, and be found in a multitude of cases, more valuable than the telegraph. It ought to be kept out of the hands of patent grabbers, and thus enable the people to enjoy something without helping to make some sharp fellow a millionaire, as was the case with the telegraph and sewing machine. To allow a man to pile up fourteen million dollars as royalty on a machine, as did Isaac M. Singer, is a little too hard on the common people. Hence, beware of patentees in the telephone business.

THE IMPORTANT DOLLAR.

To the Editor of the Daily News:

The discussion of the currency question in the manner and to the extent it has been indulged with so many honest men differing, tends to perplex us. Your correspondent does not pretend to solve it; he has not made this branch of political economy a study; being a subject of caste, his efforts have been to exist, and to secure his rights, which rights have been denied, but he ventures a query.

A point urged in favor of having silver stamped and made into money is, that by so doing we will utilize a rich product of the country and be better able to meet our pecuniary obligations. Let this be admitted. Then I enquire: If we desire and intend to be honorable in doing so, should we not in issuing silver as money see that it contains value equal to the present standard of valuation of coins? Should we not use enough silver in what shall bear the title—a dollar—to make it in value equal the accepted gold dollar? Should not a government have what it stamps and issues as a dollar be that in actual value; be what it purports to be?

It may be wise or it may be not be wise to remonetize silver; I shall not stop to discuss this; but if it is to be remonetized, would not the design of the government to be honest be more apparent if it uses sufficient silver in its issue of dollars to give them standard value. Remonetizers assume to say what amount of silver the dollar to be issued shall contain. Should they not be governed by the present value of the metal? If we shall not have the silver dollar of the fathers, because the value of silver has changed, and are to have a silver dollar, let it be an honest dollar, so that our sons may refer to the silver dollar of their fathers with pride.

PERIODICALS.

St. Nicholas is at hand with stories and pictures for the young people which are even better than ever. The frontispiece of this number is a charming full page illustration of a winter scene, called "After the Snow-storm." All the children's favorite story tellers have something to say, Miss Alcott, Susan Coolidge, Laura Richards and Frank Stockton among them. There certainly never was a magazine for little folks that could approach the St. Nicholas in interesting and instructive reading matter, and beautiful and artistic illustration. Published by Scribner & Co., New York.

Godey's Lady's Book for February is received and contains a new installment of fashions and fancy work. Under the head of Home Adornment are designs and descriptions of the knit rugs, for which patterns are so eagerly sought now a days. The stories are of the usual style. The article on skating is good but not of much use in this section of the country at present. The engraving this month represents Sir Henry Lee and Trusty Tompkins Quarreling in Woodstock park.

PERSONALS.

......"Poor Carlotta" is said to be dying.

......Dr. John Doran, the Irish author, is dead.

......The will of Thomas Hunt of Brooklyn leaves over a million dollars to relatives.

......Judge Thomas Russell will in a few days return to Venezuela as minister of the United States.

......Mr. and Mrs. Jas. F. Adair of Marcelline, Ill., have just celebrated the 67th anniversary of their marriage.

......Messrs. Pentecost and Stebbins have closed their evangelistic work in Providence. They have been quite successful.

......Mrs. Mary Burfield, the widow of an excise officer, has just died at Colchester, England, aged 100 years last June.

......Clara Jamison, who has been a stewardess on the Staten Island ferry-boats for fifty years, left the service a few days ago.

......Albani's debut in Paris was announced for the 16th January in "Lucia" with Capoul. "Lucia" was to be followed by "Les Amants de Verone"

......Ex-Secretary Bristow says he is more inclined to give attention to the practice of law than to any movement regarding future political preferments.

......Hon. E. A. Buck has loaned the town of Windham $47,000, the amount of the town debt, at 4 per cent., which is 2 per cent. less than the town has been heretofore paying.

......Dr. Tyng will be succeeded by the Rev. Walter W. Williams, as rector of St. George's Church in New York, who was called to the church from Georgetown, D. C., as assistant rector, with the right of succession, a year ago last June.

......It is said that the Duke of Edinburgh, who is with the British fleet in the Mediterranean, in order to check talk which is distasteful to him, has put up in the cabin of the Sultan the placard, "Please to remember that the Emperor of Russia is my father-in-law."

......Mr. Henry Willard, one of the oldest theatrical managers in the U. S., died in New York on Sunday afternoon. About a month ago he opened the Globe Theatre in New York, but the enterprise was not a success. He was more than seventy years old at the time of his death, and until last week had never been sick. He leaves a widow, but no children.

WHAT THE LONDON WORLD KNOWS ABOUT IT.

[From the London World, Jan. 16.]

There has been no little discussion as to the authorship of "The Tender Recollections of Irene Macgillicuddy," which have amused the readers of Blackwood's Magazine for the last two months. I have heard the papers ascribed to Lady Mandeville, the Hon. Mrs. William Carington, the Hon. Mrs. Wodehouse and more than one other American lady married into the ranks of English aristocracy. But the truth is that their author is Mr. Lawrence Oliphant, who ever and anon flashes out from his strange American retirement with a brilliancy which never fades.

William T. Richards is at work in his studio at Germantown, this winter, on a large and important canvas. The scene is near Wilmington, on the Delaware River. Trees to the left, with a nice sunlight striking through and an excellent distance. Mr. Richards hopes to have the picture finished in time for the Academy Exhibition. On another easel is a smaller picture, representing an open space in the woods near the artist's house, with cattle at pasture, well given. Mr. Richards's careful finish makes his pictures worthy of much study.

Of Boston's hundred orators, Wendell Phillips remains with his Athenian eloquence, and for a second to him it would be hard to choose between the rugged aggressiveness of Alexander H. Rice and the coy virtue and bland persuasion of William A. Simmons.—[Gail Hamilton.

The New York Times thinks that the Republican party stands in sore need of statesmen rather than antiquarians just at present.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The spirit of the icemen is reviving.

—Mr. James M. Davis is confined to his home by illness.

—We hear that Dr. Geo. Engs of this city is quite ill in New York.

—A sudden change in the weather took place yesterday afternoon.

—Mr. S. Howland Robbins, one of our summer residents, is in town.

—Services are now held each evening at Touro Chapel, Rev. Mr. Yoiser pastor.

—Dr. N. G. Stanton is about to leave town for a needed vacation of several weeks —Newport will be well represented at the Rhode Island Poultry show in Providence this week.

—Meetings will be held every evening this week at the Thames street Methodist Episcopal Church.

—Capt. Hammond with the assistance of Officer Chase arrested Lawrence McGrath, last evening for being a common drunkard.

—Capt. Hammond served a warrant on Patrick Casey yesterday for committing an unprovoked assault on J. B. Sullivan, at his residence Sunday night.

—There are prayer meetings at the Shiloh Baptist Church this week, every afternoon at 3 o'clock and every evening at 7.30.

—Two warrants were served yesterday by Capt. Hammond on Sylvester Horgan for selling liquor contrary to law. He was subsequently released on bail.

—Hon Nicholas Ball of New Shoreham is in town. He is about to make another visit to the life saving stations in the third district, of which he is assistant superintendent.

—The Rev. James Mapley will lecture before the Newport Reform Club tomorrow evening, commencing at half-past seven o'clock. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

—Mr. F. G. Harris arrived home this morning from his visit to friends in England. We met him early, on the street looking for an item. Mr. Harris came to New York in the City of Chester.

—The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will meet in Providence tomorrow. Newport will be represented by Mr. George M. Hunter, Mr. Andrew McMahon, Mr. O. G. Langley and Mr. W. H. Durfee, Jr.

—We are at liberty to announce that the report in a Fall River paper copied into the News yesterday in regard to the change of leaderships of the Newport band, is untrue. Prof. Smith has a warm place in the affections of our people, and the members of the Newport Band take a commendable pride in obtaining his services.

—The Rev. E. M. Smith and family leave for New Jersey this evening. The services in the First Methodist Episcopal Church will be held as usual during his absence. Mrs. E. J. Smith has been engaged for the week and will be present this evening. Mrs. Partington is announced to speak tonight, and Miss Burnham is also expected to be present and sing.

—A very pleasing marriage took place this afternoon, the contracting parties being Mr. John T. Trip, formerly of Fairhaven, Mass., and Miss Jennie M. Bailey of this city. The Rev. E. H. Kettell officiated at the ceremony which took place at the residence of the bride's mother on Bull street. The bride was dressed in pearl color silk. The presents were numerous. The happy couple left town on the 3 o'clock train on their bridal tour.

—Some time during the night the post-office was broken into, and about forty dollars worth of stamps and twenty dollars in specie were stolen. Entrance was made through a window on the south side of the building. After the lobby was reached, the general delivery window was pryed open, and it is supposed the thief got in this way. Several other windows were tried. The letters, in the opinion of Postmaster Coggeshall, were not disturbed, and no attempt was made to get into the safe, which contained several thousand dollars. The money and stamps were in the drawer and no lock had to be picked. Capt. Hammond was promptly notified of the affair, and has examined the premises.

HENRY V.—The large audience assembled at the Opera House last night to see Henry V, on its first representation in Newport were well pleased. Everything ran with remarkable smoothness for so extensive a play. In addition to Mr. Rignold's perfect bearing, fine voice and intelligent acting, which made him such a favorite with theatre goers, were the effective tableaux. Of these the Beach at Southampton, the Battle at Argincourt and the Grand Entry were the best. The support was very fair, Chorus and Fleullen being especially good. Miss Forsyth made a pretty and dainty Katherine. The experiment of bringing such a play to this city has proved a decided success.

THE GRASSHOPPERS.—Mr. Seth Bateman exhibited in our office yesterday a glass bottle partly filled with green grass taken from his fields, and all alive with 'hoppers that were gathered in the same place. It surely is not often the case that these pests of the farmers are abroad in mid-winter. Dandelions are also daily picked in bloom.

ORDINATION.—The ordination of Mr. Samuel I. Carr to the ministry of the Baptist church will take place today at the Central Baptist Church in this city. The council meets this afternoon at half past two o'clock when the examination of the candidate will be held. If the decision of the council is favorable the ordination will take place this evening at 7½ o'clock, the sermon being preached by Rev. Dr. Taylor of the First Baptist Church of Providence. Both meetings will be open to the public.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—This morning a man was found in a cell in the police station with his throat cut in several places. Dr. Lindsley was summoned and the nature of his wounds was ascertained. A dirk knife was used and six cuts were found, one of them being on the chin. He applied at the police station last night for lodgings and gave his name as Converse R. Grey and said he came from Boston. He belongs in Dresden, Me., and served in a marine regiment during the war and was wounded. He is about 35 years of ago. He is deaf and obliged to carry an ear trumpet. It is thought that he will recover. He has been removed to the hospital.

REFORM CLUB MEETING.

The meeting of the Newport Temperance Reform Club last evening was largely attended, and scores were turned away, unable to gain admission to the hall. After prayer the president introduced Rev. William H. Cudworth, of Boston, who was witty, humorous and pathetic. Mr. Cudworth is an able and excellent speaker and gave one of the best temperance lectures that has been listened to in this city. Mrs. L. C. Partington then spoke for about an hour in her pleasant manner, and kept the close attention of all present. "Palmer's minstrels" and the usual orchestral accompaniment were present. Miss Burnham sang the Ninty and Nine and was encored, and responded by singing the Badge of Blue.

At the close of the meeting several persons signed the pledge and joined the club.

Instead of the usual collection, an experiment was tried, and ten cents admission charged. This proved a success, as more money was taken and there were no cat calls, stamping of feet, &c.

JUSTICE COURT.

Lawrence McGrath was arraigned this morning as a common drunkard and was sentenced to six months at the State Farm.

Stephen Buckley, who was tried on Friday last upon two complaints, one for selling liquor without license, and one for keeping liquor for illegal sale, and, whose case was held over until today for advisement, was this morning adjudged guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of twenty dollars and be imprisoned in the county jail for ten days on the first warrant, and to pay a fine of twenty dollars and be imprisoned thirty days on the second. Appealed with Timothy B. Buckley as surety in the sum of one hundred dollars, to the Court of Common Pleas.

The other liquor cases, of which there are several, go over to Friday next.

THE MOSLEM TEMPLE.

THE GREAT CHURCH AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

There is a belief of long standing among the Greeks of Constantinople, that the church of Sancta Sophia—now a mosque—shall be restored to Christianity. This grand building, which covers about 70,000 square feet—more than one and a half acres—was erected by Justinian in the sixth century. It was eight years in building, and when at last it stood complete it appeared so marvelous in the eyes of all who saw it, that it was generally believed not only that an angel had given the plan, but that Heaven had rained gold and gems for the express purpose of its construction. The noblest temples of Greece and Asia were despoiled, and pillars of the most precious marbles were brought to Constantinople. Ephesus. Pergamus, Baalbec gave up their treasures, and masses of Egyptian porphyry and of syenite, which centuries before had been hewn for the honor of Zeus and of Artemis, took their places in the great Christian Church. It was the boast of Justinian that he had excelled the temple at Jerusalem. "I have surpassed thee, O Solomon!" he exclaimed, as he gazed on the completed building, and it is said that he caused a statue of Solomon to be erected opposite the church, "with a sad expression, as though grieving at the vast size and beauty of Justinian's work." Earthquakes shook the church within a few years of its completion. The great dome fell, and was restored by a younger Isidorus, nephew of the "mechanician." Repairs were made to the fabric by successive emperors; but the design was never altered, and there were no additions. Then came the fatal May of 1453. At the high altar of St. Sophia, Constantine received the Holy Sacrament during the night before the great assault (May 29), in which he fell. As the news spread that the Mohammedans had made their way into the city, the old awe and veneration which had spread a sort of mystery around St. Sophia, returned. Senators, priests, monks and nuns hastened to take refuge within its walls, recalling an ancient tradition that an angel would descend at the moment when the infidels were advancing toward the column of Constantine the Great, and, putting a sword into the hand of a certain man who would be sitting at the base of the column, would order him to avenge the people of God; whereupon the Turks, seized with a panic, would take flight to the borders of Persia. But no such heavenly aid came to the twenty thousand people crowded in St. Sophia. Mahomet on entering the city rode straight to the great church. Men, women and children were divided among the soldiers as slaves; and all the furniture, plate, and ornaments disappeared so quickly that, in the words of Finlay, "the mighty temple soon presented few traces of having been a Christian church." Mahomet himself was, it is said, greatly impressed with the rich marbles and general splendor of the place. He caused the muezzins who were with him to summon the troops to prayer; and his own prayer-carpet was spread on the high altar. There the "Son of Iniquity," as the Christian Ducas calls him, announced that an orthodox Greek Empire was extinct; and from that time the church of Justinian has served as the chief mosque of the city. The various Christian emblems were covered with plaster and thin coats of paint, and mosaics which could have offended no one, were afterwards treated in a similar manner. Large and heavy exterior buttresses, rendered necessary, it is asserted, by the shock of earthquakes, were added by Selim II., and Amurath III; but what might be considered a formidable neglect was more or less the fate of St. Sophia until 1847, when it was placed in repair by the Italian architect, Fossati, at the instance of the Sultan Abdul Mejid. His work lasted through two years, and was completed under great difficulties. Only the zeal of Reschid Pasha, it is said, enabled him to bring it to a successful end.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—'TWAS SOLEMNLY FUNNY, THOUGH.—A funny incident occurred at the west end of the railroad station yesterday morning, which at one time threatened serious results and 'twas only by good fortune that one if not two lives were not lost. As the 6:45 train for Wickford Junction was about to leave, two women were noticed apparently bidding each other good-bye. One was standing on the platform of a car, the other was standing on the platform that runs out from that end of station. They had hold of hands as if for a parting grasp. The train started slowly, there seemed to be no need of the final farewell just yet, so the woman on the depot platform walked along, still keeping hold of the hand of her friend. The speed of the train increased, so did the speed of the woman on the platform. Still they kept hold of hands. A young man, an interested observer of the transaction, could not quite make up his mind whether she that was off the train wished to get on, or she that was on wished to get off. The speed of the train still increased, until the woman on the platform began to trot, and then to run, still they kept hold of hands. Those acquainted with the locality will remember that the platform extends some distance from the station, and at the end of it a fence commences, which runs along a couple feet or so from the track. The woman on the platform by this time was going pretty fast, and when she reached the end of the platform she didn't stop. Still they kept hold of hands. The result was the woman on the platform fell down between the fence and the moving train, and pulled the woman from the car down there with her. There the two were piled up in a small space, in imminent danger of gettting under the train that was moving quickly by them. There was a second of silent astonishment, and then they both screamed. The interested spectator now became a frightened spectator and then a rescuer. He rushed to the aid of these unfortunates, expecting every moment to see one or both caught by the train and dragged under the wheels. Before he reached them, however, one had in some way managed to get through the fence and out of the way, while the other lay on her back, kicking frantically. Fearing she would in her wild endeavors, strike the train to her own great sorrow, the young man reached in through the fence, caught her by the feet, and held them still till the train had passed, when she arose and inquired if she was perfectly safe. They had a chance to say "good-bye" that they didn't count on.—[Prov. Journal.

A PRETTY MANTLEPIECE ORNAMENT.

A pretty ornament may be obtained by suspending an acorn by a peice of thread tied around it, within half an inch of the suface of some water contained in a vase, tumbler or saucer, and allowing it to remain undisturbed for several weeks. It will soon burst open, and small roots will seek the water; a straight and tapering stem with beautiful glossy green leaves, will shoot upwards, and present a very pleasing appearance. Chestnut trees may be grown in this manner, but their leaves are not so beautiful as those of the oak. The water should be changed once a month, taking care to supply water of the same warmth; bits of charcoal added to it will prevent the water from souring. If the little leaves turn yellow, put a grain of nitrate of ammonia in utensil which holds the water, and it will renew their luxuriance.

Neal Dow has introduced a felony bill into the Maine Legislature which he fondly hopes will be more effectual than any of its predecessors have been in preventing the sale of liquor. The sale of liquor is to be punished by a fine of $200 and six months imprisonment at hard labor: second offense a year. No liquor is to be brought into the state, even for private persons. People are to be held responsible for liquors found on their premises, and the burden of proof as to ownership rests on them. Apparatus for selling liquor found is to be deemed evidence of guilt. If a team is found drawing liquor the horses and vehicle are to be confiscated. Common drunkards are to be sent to jail for a year, but released on conviction of the seller. Drummers for liquor houses are to be fined $1,000 and imprisoned for a year. Officers obtaining convictions are to be paid premiums.

Wm. P. Ragsdale, Governor of the leper settlement in the island of Molokai, one of the Sandwich Islands, died recently. He was a Hawaiian by birth, but his parents were American. He was attacked with leprosy, and voluntarily went to Molokai and was made Governor of the settlement, and was a successful and poplar official.

Who the successor of the deceased leper Governor will be is not known. It was believed at one time that Peter Kao, a cousin or uncle of Queen Emma, would be Governor, but by influence this leprous chief has been allowed to leave the settlement and is now a resident of Honolulu. Peter had a nice cottage at Molokai, and, as becoming his rank, had servants to wait upon him. During his sojourn there, he enjoyed life as well as could be expected, and had the good will of the lepers at large. Now that he is free, and Ragsdale dead, it will be difficult to find the proper man to fulfil so delicate a duty.

In relation to the marriage of Miss Hannah de Rothschild to the Earl of Rosebery, the Jewish Messenger of New York says: "The subject of intermarriages has always been a sore one with the Jews, but we think with little reason. The marriages of Jews with Christians are extremely rare, and there is not much reason to fear their increase. Judaism, which as we believe has been preserved so long by the will of God, is not likely to be imperilled now by the marriage of a few individuals with the members of other churches."

A grand reception was tendered Don Cameron at the Union club rooms, Philadelphia, on Saturday evening. The senator brought with him from Washington, as guests, also of the club, Messrs. Conkling of New York, Hamlin of Maine, Howe of Wisconsin, Kirkwood of Iowa, Teller of Colorado and Cameron of Wisconsin. Senator Allison of Iowa was also invited, but could not come. About one hundred members of the club attended the reception.

A respectable colored woman in East Hampton recently went to Georgia. She had a ticket entitling her to ride with white people on the cars, but chivalry rebelled at the presumption. Some of the officers tried by threats to make her leave the car, but dared not remove her, as she insisted upon her rights. Some of the men then tried to smoke her out, and at last to freeze her by leaving the window open, but without success, and the project was finally abandoned.

Eggs are remarkably cheap in Boston. Fresh New England eggs are worth from 20 to 22 cents by the single dozen, Southern and Western from 17 to 19 cents, and limed about 15 cents. The unusually mild weather of the past two months is one of the principal causes.

A good old Quaker lady, after listening to the extravagant yarns of a storekeeper as long as her patience would allow, said to him, "Friend H., what a pity it is that it is a sin to lie when it seems so necessary in thy business."

One thousand tramps have been lodged at the Andover Almshouse the past year, showing an increase, over last year, of over 22 per cent.

Good cows are selling for $20 and $26 in Addison county, and farmers with plenty of hay are laying in a stock.

The yearly consumption of cheese in England is about ten pounds to each inhabitant.

More than 3000 individuals were helped by the city of Lowell last year.

"GERMAN SYRUP."

No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine was distributed free of charge by druggists in this country to those afflicted with consumption, asthma, croup, severe coughs, pneumonia and other diseases of the throat and lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that GERMAN SYRUP will cure them. The result has been that druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your druggist J. H. Taylor and ask what they know about it. Sample bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case.

OVERTASKING THE ENERGIES.

It is not advisable for any of us to overtask our energies, corporeal or mental, but in the eager pursuit of wealth or fame or knowledge, how many transgress this salutary rule. It must be a matter of great importance to all who do so to know how they can regain the vigor so recklessly expended. The remedy is neither costly or difficult to obtain. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is procurable in every city, town and settlement in America, and it compensates for a brain of bodily or mental energy more effectually than any invigorant ever prescribed or advertised. Laboring men, athletes, students, journalists, lawyers, clergymen, physicians, all bear testimony to its wondrously renovating powers. It increases the capabilities for undergoing fatigue, and counteracts the injurious effects of exposure, sedentary habits, unhealthy or wearying avocations, or an insalubrious climate, and is a prime alterative, diuretic and blood depurent.

Consumption Cured.—An old physician retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. WONDER WORLD.

BY

MARIE PABKE and MARGERY DEANE.

ILLUSTRATED BY LUCY G. MORSE.

"Will not go a-begging for children's favors."—[N. Y. Tribune.

"A fine collection of old stories which will be warmly welcomed in this translation."—[N. Y. Eve. Post.

"The field of selection is boundless, and it may well be imagined that the Wonder World stories contain a fresh assortment. They are all characteristic, and some eminently so, of the countries to which each is accredited. * * The volume shows excellent discrimination and being handsomely brought out, must be ranked with the foremost ventures of the present year. It merits a permanent sale long after the gift season has gone by."—[The Nation.

"A remarkable book—It is not, as has generally been supposed, a child's book, unless the Arabian Nights and Æsops Fables are to be regarded in that light. To relegate such a book to the nursery would be an injustice to lovers of the best in this peculiar field of literature, for while its stories delight children, its chief design—to bring into defined contrast the temperament, humor, sentiment, the salient individual and national characteristics and times described is admirably effected * * * It is a wonderful story (The Hungarian) and would alone lift Wonder World above the ordinary level."—[Boston Globe.

"* * Two women have brought together this little collection of which it may safely be said that not one is insignificant or wanting in amusing qualities, * * * It takes the pick of the fabulous lore of the whole world."—[Scribner's Monthly

"Clear type, fine paper, pretty binding * * * * Wonder World will prove a popular favorite, and a permanent addition to the lore of fairy land. The last story is alone worth the price of the volume."—[Christian Register.

"We heartily recommend this book."—[The Churchman.

"The translators are to be congratulated upon their arrangement of a volume as unique and valuable as it is delightful."—Portland Press.

"The wonder is where the translators found all these legends and fine stories."—Hartford Times.

"A source of perpetual delight to the lad and lassie fortunate enough to possess it."—[Fort Wayne Sentinel.

SUNDRIES.

The authors of "Beatiful Snow" are going to hold a mass meeting.

You can get a very good idea of "natural selection" in its practical workings, by viewing a celery glass after it has been once around the table.—[Hawkeye.

A Montana justice of the peace doesn't splurge any when he marries a couple. He sayes: "Arise! Grab hands! Hitched! Six dollars." And that is all there is to it.

The following is a rather equivocal obituary: "Maria Brown, wife of Timothy Brown, aged eighty years. She lived with her husband fifty-nine years, and died in the confident hope of a better life."

It is reported that when the czar met the hero of Plevna, and congratulated him on his bravery, the intrepid Osman replied, "Sire, I fight for fartherland." "True," said the czar, "and I also fight for farther land."—[Judy.

At the late Bucks county institute a fair-haired, blue-eyed darling of a teacher of the female persuasion forever demolished the base insinuation by the following conundrum: "How do you make a Maltese cross?" Answer—Tread on her tail.

A NEWSDEALER'S NEW DEPARTMENT.

A leading Boston newsdealer has made a new departure in a direction that deserves the warmest commendation of all parents and others interested in the welfare of society. He refuses to sell "flash" boy papers—those filled with trashy stories of the dime novel sort and worse, and illustrated with cheap pictures of pirates, outlaws, Indian hunters, and the like—at any of his news stands, substituting therefor juvenile publications of literary merit and moral worth, such as tend to elevate rather than deprave the tastes of the young. The example should be emulated here in Troy, and in fact wherever these morally pestilential papers are sold. These sensational stories, although usually disguised with an affected moral tone, are corrupting in their influence, and often ruinous in their effects upon the youthful reader. The way to educate boys properly is to place at their disposal good, wholesome and interesting books and newspapers, and to keep from them all sorts of vile reading matter which is floating about the country, sullying all who tamper with it. —[Troy Times.

The postoffice in East Putnam, Conn., was broken open by burglars on Wednesday night, 23d inst., the safe taken out, carried about ninety feet and thrown down an embankment, evidently with the intention of breaking it open, but the plunderers were probably frightened away before finishing the job.

Testimonials.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the patent office.

EDMUND BURKE, late Commissioner of Patents."

Boston, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

BOVININE

CONCENTRATED

BEEF JUICE.

For purposes of nourishment "Bovinine" is fast taking the place of "Beef Extracts," being far better suited to the most delicate patients. Consumptives and those suffering from debility or low state of the system, derive great benefit from its use. In cases of Poverty of Blood, accompanied by General Debility, this invigorating preparation is peculiarly adapted. Physicians, after several months' trial, pronounce it one of the best articles of nourishment they have ever seen; it containing the chief essentials, in a form palatable and easily absorbed without taxing the digestive organs, and also being entirely free from any drug, they have no hesitation in recommending its use.
